

The Office of Logistics and Acquisition Operations (OLAO) is proud to celebrate another year of providing a wide variety of high quality products and outstanding services. We take pride in being NIH's premier central services organization for logistics, property, and acquisition services. We continue to work diligently to improve our services and remain committed to providing the highest quality of services to our customers.

LTASC II

Long-Term Administrative Support Contract

LTASC provides all of NIH a mechanism to acquire long-term administrative support services for a period of at least twelve months on a task order basis.

LTASC II is the only means to procure long-term administrative support within NIH.
